THE ECHO

. . . which began in 1936 as "the Devil's Echo" evolved to its present title of "The Echo" in 1960. Through the years it has survived the changes and alterations and served its purpose as a preserver of memories. Each year holds its own special memories for everyone and while this book will serve as the final chapter of life at H H S for the Seniors of 1983, it will also be the beginning chapter for the Seniors of 1986. To the students and faculty of Huntington High — may this book be always within your reach, and H H S always among your memories.

Sincerely,

Editor of 82-83 Echo

Kevin Taylor

As today's tomorrows fade into tomorrow's yesterdays let us not lose sight of the future nor forget the memories of our past at Huntington High.

~ Dedication ~

I, along with my entire staff, am honored to dedicate the 1982-'83 edition of the ECHO to our sponsor Ineda LeSassier, who is retiring after 38 years of diligent service to the HISD.

Like the Morning Sun, She Gave a Ray of Hope and Encouragement to All She Touched . . .

With love, respect and admiration,

Kelvin Taylor

America is meeting the challenges of the '80s

As one of America's natural resource industries, Temple-EasTex has eagerly accepted the challenge of building a greater America.

Temple-EasTex is a diversified family of companies with common goals, engaged in forest management...pulp and paperboard...home and commercial building products...paper packaging and design...real estate and land development...mortgage banking...and commercial/industrial engineering, architecture and construction.

We have a positive attitude about America's future, and we're willing to do whatever it takes to make that future strong and sure.
